Open content film Main article: Open content film An open content film is much like an independent film, but it is produced through open collaborations its source material is available under a license which is permissive enough to allow other parties to create fan fiction or derivative works, than a traditional copyright. Like independent filmmaking, open source filmmaking takes place outside Hollywood, or other major studio systems.For example, the film Balloon was based on the real event during the Cold War.15

Other major films have postponed releases in certain countries. The Pixar film Onward, released on the opening March weekend, was not opened in the areas most affected by the coronavirus outbreak while cinemas were closed in China, it also chose not to open in South Korea, Italy or Japan.90 Other March 2020 releases A Quiet Place Part II and Mulan postponed their releases in affected areas, too. This prompted worry that, should March film openings underperform, blockbusters set for release in May specifically DisneyMarvels Black Widow and Universals F9 would move their dates later in the calendar.187 Mulan not opening in China, where it aimed to make most of its money, was particularly concerning,91 especially with the possibility that pirate copies will appear and prevent Chinese moviegoers from going to see it in cinemas when it is released.9 Comparatively, A Quiet Place Part II had not anticipated a large Chinese draw, as the box office for the first film in the country was only 10% of its total.7
